

GetThere and StarCite Meetings

Overview

Companies using StarCite meetings tools now have the opportunity to integrate these products with the GetThere® travel procurement system to book air travel for meetings in one seamless process. With meetings becoming an increasingly important savings vehicle in travel procurement strategy, the integration of these best-in-class tools results in increased online adoption, overall travel savings and meetings control.

Travel & Meetings Integration Benefits

Having successfully controlled transient travel expenses, companies are increasingly extending their spend management initiatives to include meeting expenditures. Current systems, however, generate an incomplete picture of meeting spend. This partial view hinders efforts to show accurate reports to management, consolidate vendors, and negotiate volume discounts. GetThere integrates with StarCite to channel meeting travel through a single online source. This provides the data visibility that is instrumental in gaining a better understanding of corporate meeting spend, the first step in controlling these expenditures.

StarCite provides yet another example of our ability to integrate with multiple travel and technology partners to virtually any enterprise system. The GetThere philosophy of flexible integration gives customers the power to choose the partners that best fit their individual needs.

The Company

- > Cost Savings and Efficiency – Drive down meeting costs and agency fees by moving your meeting and travel planning online and to a single site
- > Visibility and Control – Increase visibility to hotel spend and vendor preferencing, ensuring your meeting planners use company approved hotels and compliant contracts

The Meeting Planner

- > Online Simplicity and Ease-Of-Use – Experience a simple process from creating the meeting and building a registration site, to sending invitations and running reports
- > Robust, Click-And-Go Planning – Apply group discounts, preferred vendor, and other policy guidelines to meeting-related travel
- > Easy Attendee Management – Easily invite attendees, as well as track their travel plans, accommodations and special needs

The Traveler

- > Speeding the Process – Employees receive an e-mail invitation to a meeting, and with a single click, can register online and at their convenience
- > Making Travel Easy – Attendees access a single web site to register for the meeting, book a flight, reserve a hotel room and rent a car
