

GetThere Mobile

Overview

As a travel procurement professional, a lot of the value you bring to your company hinges on the success of your travel program. You've put cost-saving measures in place with a strategically designed travel policy. It's imperative that you have access to solutions that help you empower travelers to stay within your corporate travel guidelines.

Travel policy compliance is most at risk when an employee is on the road. That's why GetThere®, the world's leading travel procurement solution, has developed GetThere Mobile – a feature that's designed to help your travelers when they're on the go.

With GetThere Mobile, travelers have access to trip itineraries and flight status from their mobile devices and are just one click away from their corporate travel agent. For example, a traveler who's en route to the airport in a foreign city finds out his flight home has been cancelled. With GetThere Mobile, he can quickly, conveniently and proactively change his plans (from a taxicab, no less) so he doesn't spend all day or night at the airport.

How It Works

GetThere Mobile replicates the look and feel of a corporation's travel site on any Web-enabled mobile device, allowing road warriors to access a variety of travel-related information.

Upon signing in (using the same authentication as the corporate travel site), travelers have access to all of their My Trip information that exists in GetThere. This includes current, on-hold and historical trip itineraries, flight status including arrival, departure and gate information and one-click access to travel agency contact information.

Unlike competitive solutions, GetThere Mobile is browser and mobile device independent. This means GetThere Mobile is more widely accessible. It's immediately available to all your travelers, regardless of their mobile preference and does not require a corporate-mandated mobile application.

The added convenience of a mobile solution leads to traveler satisfaction, especially on the road, and by boosting program compliance, use of GetThere Mobile leads directly to cost-savings.

Company Benefits

While on the road, travelers can experience a sense of urgency and anxiety when itineraries change at the last minute. This can easily tempt an employee to make an itinerary change directly with an airline, hotelier or car rental company, ultimately circumventing policy and driving up travel costs. GetThere Mobile empowers employees to be policy-compliant by contacting the travel agency, translating to savings for the company.

Travel Manager Benefits

Research shows that 97 percent of business travelers are mobile-ready. Therefore, a mobile solution for travel is a natural extension of your corporate travel program. You're providing a cost-effective and easy-to-use feature to your program that benefits your company's bottom line and your travelers' lifestyles.

Traveler Benefits

For travelers, access to information while on the road can be cumbersome or unavailable. GetThere Mobile addresses these on-the-road obstacles by making travel information easily accessible to road warriors. Employees stay focused on business and spend less time dealing with travel arrangements.
