Overview

Public Sector entities demand a comprehensive online travel procurement solution. With an unrivaled combination of technology and service, GetThere delivers the best travel procurement solution designed specifically for government travel. GetThere streamlines and automates nearly every aspect of travel management, greatly reducing travel costs while enhancing employee efficiency, satisfaction and accountability.

Public Sector travelers can securely shop and purchase approved travel options, access negotiated rates and per-diems/price caps, and manage user profiles online while gaining extraordinary flexibility and control of their travel planning process.

Enhanced Employee Capital

GetThere saves Public Sector employees valuable time by simplifying the travel shopping and booking process. GetThere offers instant access to airline, car, hotel and rail companies 24x7x365 and boasts an average system uptime of 99.9 percent.

Public Sector leaders can enjoy extraordinary flexibility and control over their travel program. Leaders can define permissible travel options, effectively manage travel policy compliance, incorporate green travel policies, boost online adoption rates, reduce paperwork and dramatically cut travel program costs.

GetThere is the most modern and stable online booking platform in the managed travel space and is available whenever your users need us.

Expense Control

Public Sector leaders can dramatically reduce their travel management fees while effectively tracking their entire travel spend by using GetThere. You also gain a greater ability to influence traveler behavior during the shopping and booking process by alerting them of trip alternatives, more cost-effective options and preferred suppliers.

In today's tenuous economic environment, it has never been more important to select a travel technology that can help control costs. That's GetThere. By integrating business functions, supplier content and enterprise technology, GetThere helps you dictate traveler shopping behavior and promote cost savings.

Sustainability

Public Sector entities can also ramp up their corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiatives by integrating green policies into the travel program. With GetThere Green, travel managers can leverage carbon emission data and supplier green status in the shopping path and deliver relevant messaging at the point-of-sale. These messages serve to educate travelers about the carbon footprint of their trip.
