Overview

Business travelers simply can't afford to risk a cancelled trip or denied entry to a country when traveling internationally. But do they always know when or how to secure a visa or expedite passport delivery prior to departure? To ensure your corporate travelers have all the necessary documents well in advance of a trip, GetThere has partnered with CIBT, the world's leading provider of visa and passport fulfillment services.

This partnership makes a confusing and time-consuming process quick and simple. GetThere and CIBT deliver an industry-first: integrated, proactive and secure notifications when a traveler books a visa destination. Your travelers will automatically be alerted to what documents they need to enter a country, with easy-to-follow steps to securing these documents.

How it works

CIBT's solution is integrated into GetThere's shopping and booking process, helping ensure fast and efficient delivery of required travel documents. When travelers book a visa destination in GetThere, they will instantly see a notification in the booking path. Pulling from CIBT's massive proprietary database, the alert conveys the documents they need and easy-to-follow steps for completing all government-required paperwork.

With this information at hand, your travelers can quickly expedite the process and ensure they receive documents well in advance of a trip. Your travelers will also get support from CIBT's team of 700-plus travel visa and passport specialists, who individually review each application before it is submitted to an embassy or agency.

Integrated CIBT visa notifications

CIBT: Experienced. Global. Secure.

With more than 50 years experience, CIBT is the largest and most well-established travel visa and passport company in the world. CIBT assists nearly one million people each year in obtaining the documents required for international travel.

In addition to visas, CIBT offers a full line of U.S. passport services, and can obtain other documents including letters of invitation, legalizations and document translations. More than two-thirds of the Fortune 500—plus the world's largest tour operators, travel management companies and cruise lines—use CIBT services.

GetThere and CIBT recognize the sensitive nature of documents required to obtain a travel visa, and we're committed to protecting your privacy. Rest assured that data security is our top priority, and your personal information or private documents will not be shared.
